

Public Art Caches

Winged Runner

This art piece can be found ready to take flight outside of the Orange County Administration Center. Originally cast in Barcelona, Spain, this second cast of Winged Runner was on display at SeaWorld for many years. With an astronaut-like facemask and inadequate wings it is a monument to “dreamers.” The first cast of Winged Runner is at The United States Olympic Training Facility in San Diego, CA and won the “Orchid” award from a jury of architects and city planners. The artist, Roy Shifrin, lives in New York City. Around the other side of the building “The Leaper” is also ready to exercise his imagination.

Innovative and brave, this runner is ready to fly. If he should successfully leap off the tower with his wings, he might land in the bushes and trees ahead. Standing with your back to the Winged Runner, behind the nearest tree ahead to your right is where the Cache you seek lies. To help you find the Cache among all the bushes, the box is hidden under leaves with a branch on top of it.

Please make sure to not damage the plants in the area. Place the Cache back exactly where you found it covering it with leaves and the branch for the next hunter who comes along.

Please feel free to send an e-mail to terry.olson@ocfl.net or call us at (407) 836-5540 to let us know about your hunting experience. If you could not find the Cache, please let us know.
