Artist's Statement:

One's passion has guided him to perfect his techniques through his independent studies. By picking up a brush and studying the classical masters, One has been able to perfect the skills that are visible through his work today.

One hopes to reach as many people as possible with inspiring images that stimulate the mind and can reunite people with their feelings.

"Through my art, I want to reach people and make a difference in their lives. If I can make a difference in someone's life, then mine has been fruitful."
