Painting / Drawing

Gaea Sunset – (22"X30")
Watercolor, 2006

Artist's Statement:

I use traditional watercolor materials and techniques to produce nontraditional results. My works tend to be ethereal, other wordly, vibrant, vivid watercolors. They are accomplished with a complex combination of pours, evaporations, resists, controlled flows and finished with meticulous brushwork.

I use my science degree in many of my paintings to show the interconnection of all living things with each other, their environment, and man. My brain stem was damaged by a tumor and I suffer from phantom pain and uncoordination. My art tends to be very upbeat and colorful to compensate for the difficulties I have with my disability.
