Painting / Drawing

Two Rays

Orlando on the Horizon

Artist's Statement:

"I have always been enticed by faces and certain subjects and try not to stare, but as an artist sometimes I am caught in the beauty of the moment. I delight to capture a likeness but more to create a piece of art that is emotive and will stand through time."

Pedrero creates from her home studio in Longwood Florida, enjoying the company of her dog Max. She began fine art studies at the age of thirteen with exhibitions at The Mystic Art Association, in the seaport town near her childhood home in Connecticut. "I desire to capture simple pleasures like the wind in the trees, atmospheric reflections, people and places around the world. I respond to what catches my eyes and heart personifying nature through color and movement, evoking moods of transition, strength, and serenity."

Pedrero is an award winning artist acknowledged for her luminous landscapes and captivating portraits. Jeffrey Spalding CEO and President for Glenbow Museum, Canada judged her work best of show with a "magical use of color" as Director of the Appleton Museum in Ocala Florida.

The PSA after Pedrero's signature is a privilege of elected signature members of the Pastel Society of America and she is a member of the Portrait Society of America.
