Did You Know...

In 2029, it is projected there will be 14.4 million middle-income seniors in the United States. Of these middle-income seniors, 60 percent will have mobility limitations and 20 percent will have high health care and functional needs.

Many of these seniors will likely need assistive residential care: however, 54 percent of these middle-income seniors will not have sufficient financial resources to pay for this care. Read Health Affairs summary.

State & National News

World Health Organization Dementia Guidelines

The World Health Organization (WHO) has published the Risk Reduction of Cognitive Decline and Dementia report that gives health-care providers a knowledge base so that they are better able to advise patients on how to prevent cognitive decline and dementia. These guidelines are also useful for governments, policy-makers and planning authorities as they begin to develop policies and programs that encourage healthy lifestyles. Read WHO dementia report.

Life Tables

According to the 2016 United States life tables, overall life expectancy at birth in 2016 was 78.7 years. Data also indicates the probability that a person will survive from birth to age 80 is 57.8% given the 2016 age-specific mortality rates. Read Centers for Disease Control's life tables.

Trends in Nursing Home Deficiencies

The Office of Inspector General for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has issued a data brief that analyzed nursing home deficiencies in the United States from 2013 to 2017. Data shows Florida had an average of 3.87 deficiencies per survey conducted by the state of Florida. Read deficiencies report.

Adult Protective Services Report

Twenty-six states have a statewide registry for perpetrators of elder and vulnerable adult abuse. The National Adult Protective Services Association (NAPSA) studied data from 21 of these states from 2016-2017. The study examined the structure of each state registry, the perpetrator placement process and how data on the registry is utilized. Read abuse registry report
