Orange County
Neighborhood Resource Guide
Prepared by
Orange County Neighborhood Services Division
July 2003
PURPOSE

The Neighborhood Resource Guide is a tool for neighborhood groups wishing to organize for the first time or to reactivate existing neighborhood organizations. This guide is a compilation of information derived from various community organization sources and is a valuable tool for all types of community organizations. Many community organizations and neighborhoods throughout the United States follow similar organizational guidelines.

The Neighborhood Resource Guide offers suggestions for planning a first meeting, starting community projects and activities, keeping residents informed through newsletters, working with local government, and much more. It also provides valuable resources, such as Orange County Government programs and services.

Please give us your comments! We are always open to suggestions for improvement. Also, let us know if you like the Guide and find it useful. Your comments will help us continue to provide valuable and beneficial materials to the communities of Orange County.

District 1 Commissioner
Teresa S. Jacobs
Telephone: 407-836-7350
Email: district1@ocfl.net

District One celebrates both the rural tranquility of Orange County's small town past and the cutting edge excitement of its future. The Cities of Winter Garden and Ocoee and the Town of Oakland lie at the northern boundary of this District and offer both the convenience of a country lifestyle and a wide range of urban amenities.

District 2 Commissioner
Robert B. "Bob" Sindler
Telephone: 407-836-7350
Email: bob.sindler@ocfl.net

District Two located in northwest Orange County offers the choice of a rural or urban lifestyle. The quiet communities of Tangerine and Zellwood are located in the District’s northwest section. Tangerine is located along U.S. Highway 441 near the Orange / Lake County line. Zellwood, home of the annual Zellwood Sweet Corn Festival, is south of Tangerine.
District 3 Commissioner
Mary I. Johnson
Telephone: 407-836-7350
Email: mary.johnson@ocfl.net

District Three comprising north central Orange County is the center of business for the County and Central Florida. Orlando’s central business district is located within the District’s northwest section.

District 4 Commissioner
Linda Stewart
Telephone: 407-836-7350
Email: linda.stewart@ocfl.net

District Four is Central Florida’s gateway to the world. Quality and innovation are the hallmarks. In contrast to the fast pace set by the Orlando International Airport, there are ample areas in District Four to the south and east untouched by urban life. The Econlockhatchee and St. John’s Rivers flow through the western area of District Four and wetland/conservation areas are scattered throughout this section.

ORANGE COUNTY FAST FACTS

Location: 28.5139 N Latitude & 81.3221 W Longitude, in East Central Florida, USA
Area: Total area: 1,003 square miles land area 907.6 square miles
Incorporated: Dec. 29, 1824 County Seat: Orlando

Geographic Location

Orange County is situated in the approximate center of the state of Florida, midway between Jacksonville and Miami. The St. Petersburg-Tampa area on the Gulf of Mexico, and Daytona Beach on the Atlantic Coast is easy drives for beach-goers.

Two of the state's major highways, Interstate 4 (east-west travel) and the Florida Turnpike (north-south travel), intersect just outside Orlando.

Orange County History

Immediately after the secession of Florida by Spain in 1821, the territory was divided into two counties: Escambia (which included the northern portion) and St. Johns (which included all the territory lying to the south and east of the Suwannee River). Three years later, the Legislative Council separated the central portion of Florida to form Mosquito County. This vast region contained 466 residents according to the 1850 census.

After Florida became a state in 1845, the County was renamed Orange County. Its territorial limits as they exist today were defined in 1913 and encompass an area of approximately 1,000 square miles. There are 13 municipalities within Orange County; Orlando is the county seat.
Orange County Charter

Orange County is a Charter County, meaning it has its own constitution and is self-governing. Having a Charter gives the County the ability to respond to a changing environment and meet local needs. The first Charter was adopted in November 1986 and went into effect on January 6, 1987. In November 1988, voters approved the creation of a new form of government for Orange County: a chairman elected by the community at large and the creation of six single-member districts.

What is Orange County Neighborhood Services?

The Neighborhood services Division facilitates the establishment and maintenance of community organizations and serves as a neighborhood resource. The Division also develops strategies for addressing community issues and other programs that educate citizens about techniques to improve the quality of life in all communities.

Neighborhood Services Mission

Orange County Neighborhood Services empowers our community by encouraging the development of neighborhood organizations and by providing citizens with the resources to revitalize, strengthen, and preserve the quality of life in their neighborhoods.

Orange County Neighborhood Services Programs

Neighborhood Services is molded around four key principles: Community Revitalization, Community Preservation, Community Awareness and Community Resources. Within each principle are various programs and services dedicated to improving the overall quality of life in Orange County. Following is a sampling of key programs and services offered by the Orange County Neighborhood Services Section:

Neighborhoods21:
This program assists neighborhoods and communities in unincorporated Orange County in organizing effective voluntary neighborhood associations. Neighborhood Services works with residents by providing the information needed to create and maintain a self-sufficient, active neighborhood organizations.
Safe Neighborhood Program:
A neighborhood revitalization tool, which targets Orange County’s older and transitioning neighborhoods and assists residents in reclaiming their communities before crime and deterioration create blighted conditions. The program focuses on the partnership of citizens with local governments and agencies, the private sector, and others to collaboratively preserve and stabilize neighborhoods. Funding for Safe Neighborhood projects are derived from the Orange County Crime Prevention Fund.

ReNEW (RESIDENTS AND NEIGHBORHOODS EMPOWERED TO WIN):
The ReNEW Program provides direct funding to support and assist citizens and organizations in improving the physical and social quality of neighborhoods. Funding is available in the form of grants to help organizations revitalize and preserve their neighborhoods. Neighborhood groups, including non-profit and faith-based organizations can apply for the grants.

Neighborhood Enhancement Grant:
The Neighborhood Enhancement Grant Program provides funds to neighborhoods and homeowner associations wanting to make physical and aesthetic improvements to their communities. Grant funding is available once a year for neighborhoods seeking an award amount of $1,000 - $5,000. A $250 match is required.

Capital Project Grant:
The Capital Project Grant Program provides funds to neighborhoods, homeowners associations, and non-profit organizations including faith-based organizations wanting to make physical and aesthetic improvements to their communities. Grant funding is available once a year for neighborhoods and non-profits seeking an award of a minimum of $6,000 to a maximum of $25,000 (in $1,000 increments). All projects require a minimum 50% community match, with the exception of some targeted communities, which requires a 25% match.
Neighborhood Planning Grant:
The Planning Grant provides neighborhood organizations the opportunity to develop and implement small area study or neighborhood strategic plans, and increase community awareness programs. Grant funding is available once a year for neighborhoods to complete small area or neighborhood plans.

Orange County Community Conference:
This annual Conference provides neighborhood organizations and interested citizens with valuable information for improving their communities through educational and interactive workshops and networking opportunities.

Small Area Studies:
An element of neighborhood planning, which identifies declining or transitioning communities and partners with residents and community stakeholders on revitalization efforts.

Community Revitalization Element:
As part of Orange County's Comprehensive Policy Plan, the proposed Element will identify strategies for improving neighborhoods across the county in a systematic manner, in addition to providing the organization and guidance needed to establish neighborhood planning and stimulate community revitalization.

Advocacy:
Neighborhood Services serves as an advocate on behalf of citizens regarding issues that affect neighborhoods (collectively and individually). Neighborhood Services also assists in "cutting-red tape" that often comes from not knowing who to call and what questions to ask.
What is a neighborhood organization?

A neighborhood organization is a group of neighbors working together for the good of all, with a common vision, goals and objectives. A neighborhood organization makes decisions on common problems within a community by sharing ideas and solutions. Neighborhood organizations are the vehicles for communities to revitalize and preserve neighborhoods and enhance property values.

Why is neighborhood organizing important?

We all live in a community; as such we share a unique collection of problems and prospects in common with our neighbors. Participation in neighborhood affairs builds on the recognition of here-we-are-together, and a desire to recapture something of the tight-knit communities of the past. Neighborhood groups can act as vehicles for making connections between people, forums for resolving local differences, and a means of looking after one another. Most importantly, neighborhood organizations create a positive social environment that can become a community's best feature.

What are the various types of neighborhood organizations?

A Voluntary Neighborhood Organization is a voluntary association of homeowners, renters, and sometimes businesses formed within a specific geographic area. The issues of a voluntary organization are broad based, and address residential and business concerns which impact the community's quality of life. A voluntary organization does not enforce architectural controls, maintain deed restrictions or charge mandatory dues.

A Mandatory Homeowners Association is a corporation of homeowners responsible for the operation of a community in which the membership is mandatory. This type of association has the power to impose assessments or dues, which if unpaid, may become a lien on the property. This association has the authority to enforce covenants through civil action. In Florida, subdivisions built after 1987 have mandatory homeowners associations. The governing authority of such organizations can be found in the Florida State Statues, Chapter 720.
Where can I obtain a list of mandatory homeowners associations?

Every mandatory homeowners association within the State of Florida must register with the State Department Division of Corporations. The Division of Corporations has a comprehensive website where you can obtain copies of annual reports for every corporation in Florida. You can search by the name of the homeowners association and obtain names of Board members. Search the Division’s website at www.sunbiz.org/corpweb/inquiry/cormenu.html

Does Orange County regulate homeowners associations?

Orange County, as with almost all other local governments, has no power to enforce or regulate the restrictive covenants or proceedings of mandatory homeowners associations. Restrictive covenants, also known as homeowner's covenants, or deed restrictions are private land use controls included as part of the property title when you purchase your home. A covenant restricts the use of the property and is enforceable usually by other property owners in the same subdivision who are part of the homeowners association Executive Board. In some instances, a management company may run your homeowners association.

If you have questions or concerns regarding your homeowners association, you should first familiarize yourself with the documents of your association, including Bylaws, Articles of Incorporation and Covenants, Deeds and Restrictions. A copy of these documents can be obtained from the Orange County Official Records Department at (407) 836-5115. If research does not answer your question or address your concern, you should contact a real estate attorney or a title company to request a search of the public records for all recorded documents for your community. The cost of a real estate attorney is typically less than $100. If the associations' articles of incorporation or bylaws have not been recorded in the public records, a copy of the articles of incorporation can be obtained from the Florida Department of State Division of Corporations, Corporate Filings, P O Box 6327, Tallahassee, FL 32314.
What is the Florida State Statues, Chapter 720, Homeowners Association?

Florida State Statutes, Title XL, Real & Personal Property, Chapter 720, Homeowners' Associations, provides for reasonable rules governing homeowners associations. The purpose of state statutes 720.301-720.312 are give statutory recognition to corporations that operate residential communities in this state, to provide procedures for operating homeowners association, and to protect the rights of the association members without duly impairing the ability of such associations to perform their functions. How is a neighborhood organization established?

To start a neighborhood organization, first talk with other neighbors to seek their interest. Once you have a group of four or five interested persons, contact Orange County Neighborhood Services to express interest in participating in the Neighborhoods21 program. Neighborhoods21 is designed to assist neighborhoods and communities in unincorporated Orange County in organizing effective associations. The Neighborhood Services Section will provide residents with the information needed to create and maintain a self-sufficient, active neighborhood organization.

Important Guidelines to keep in mind as you begin to organize:

✓ Building an organization is a process. It cannot be done overnight. Be patient. Identify your priorities and build them step-by-step.

✓ Set realistic goals. Start small and build upward. As you organizational structure grows, start setting your goals higher.
How can an organization recruit new members?

Getting new people involved in an organization is exciting. New people have enthusiasm and energy, which can be infectious, serving to motivate others in the group. Following are some volunteer recruitment strategies to bring life into your organization:

- Door to door personal contacts such as surveys and interviews.
- Adopt-a-Neighbor (each member brings a neighbor to the meeting).
- Media involvement to promote a special meeting or event.
- Post fliers announcing your meeting at neighborhood markets, laundromats, businesses, schools, etc.
- Keep your group diversified. Healthy groups have a mix of age, gender, ethnic background, businesses, schools, etc.
- Develop a recruitment brochure explaining your neighborhood organization.
- Involve other groups in the community with goals or activities similar to your groups.
- Never recruit for specific jobs until you know how you will use each volunteer.
- Personal Invitations.

- Place recruitment ads in newsletters from other groups, community newspapers, etc.
- Contact local volunteer resource agencies for referrals.
- Place exhibits in stores, malls, volunteer fairs, etc.
- Work with Neighborhood Watch block coordinators to identify people who care about the neighborhood.
- Use your newsletter to promote and recruit. Instead of reporting on an issue, showcase how your group has made a difference.
- Be honest about time demands. Be specific about the job and how the person could help.
- Assure new volunteers that they do not have to be experts; training and support will be provided.
- Do not be afraid to try different approaches to advertising, such as T-shirts, bumper stickers, buttons, calendars, open houses, neighborhood tours, etc.

What are some ideas for setting goals?

Your neighborhood organization needs clear direction. In order to chart that direction, it is important to determine the social and physical needs of your neighborhood and identify goals accordingly. A Goal is simply a statement of what your organization wants to accomplish over a specified period of time. For example, “To physically improve the neighborhood by implementing a beautification project to enhance the common areas, the main entrance and medians throughout the neighborhood”. An Objective is a statement that explains how your organization will reach its goal. Your objectives need to be specific, measurable, clear and concise, realistic and achievable within a certain timeframe. For example, “Create a site plan by September 1\textsuperscript{st} identifying all the common areas and medians requiring landscaping.”

What are some advantages of goal setting?

Goal setting allows a neighborhood organization to:

- Become aware of neighborhood needs. By setting goals for your organization, the needs of your neighborhood will come into focus. These needs give your organization a purpose and meaning.
- Accomplish projects. By setting time limits for project completion, your organization can anticipate how much work is ahead and schedule it accordingly.
- Strive towards a mark. Goal setting keeps your members involved and motivated. If your organization has set a target date to complete a project, then the energy level of members will increase as the target dates draw near.
- Keep members active. If your neighborhood organization has set goals, there will be plenty of projects to work on. If members are not busy, then it is time to get them working to accomplish existing goals.

What are organization bylaws?

Bylaws are the governing documents of any neighborhood organization and are central to establishing a successful organization. Bylaws specify how an organization operates. It is not necessary for bylaws to detail every aspect of the organization. However, bylaws must provide enough guidance for officers and members to perform necessary tasks. When bylaws are too vague, the organization will not have adequate structure. Also, frequent amendments often cause the organization to stray too far from its original purpose. Much literature, including Roberts Rules of Order, has been written for the purpose of assisting residents in writing bylaws. These books are available at your local library.

What is the role of a neighborhood organization Executive Board?

The officers of the neighborhood organization make up what is often called the Executive Board. The organization’s bylaws outline the duties of the officers. Sometimes, the Executive Board also includes Committee Chairs. General duties are listed below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Position</th>
<th>Duties</th>

What is the role of neighborhood organization committees?

Most neighborhood organizations organize their work and accomplish their objectives through the dedicated work of committees. Many times, committees will be established for the purpose of accomplishing an organization's goal. For example, if an organization's goal is "Neighborhood Beautification", the Executive Board will establish a "Beautification Committee" to ensure the objectives of the goal are realized. Following are various types of neighborhood organization committees:

✓ Beautification Committee.
✓ Publicity Committee.
✓ Social Activities Committee.
✓ Traffic Committee.
✓ Social Concerns Committee.
✓ Safety/Neighborhood Watch.
✓ Code Enforcement Committee.
✓ Fundraising/Finance Committee.

What are some tips to maintaining active and productive committees?

As with any situation involving volunteers, neighborhood organization committees need specific direction and clear objectives to accomplish their tasks effectively and efficiently. Following are some general tips to ensure committee productivity:

- Clearly define and discuss the goals and objectives of the committee.
- Publicly recognize members and committees who have contributed to the advancement of the neighborhood organization.
- Ensure meeting time and committee work is as productive as possible. No one wants to feel they are wasting time.
- Ensure the work of the committee is accepted and makes a valuable contribution to the organization.
- Consider using subcommittees to increase individual responsibilities and focus on goals.
- Conduct yearly committee evaluations where committee members evaluate each other.

How do we register our neighborhood organization or report a change?

To register your unincorporated (area not within city boundaries) Orange County neighborhood organization or to report a change in your organization, simply complete the registration form in the back of this publication and your information will be updated in our database. The printed information will appear in next year’s Neighborhood Organization Directory. Send you registration form to:

INCORPORATION AND TAX EXEMPT STATUS

How do I incorporate my organization with non-profit status?

Incorporating as a non-profit organization can help define a group and contribute to its credibility as a viable, working body of interested citizens. Incorporation also protects the liability of group members. Within the State of Florida, the cost for filing a non-profit incorporation is $78.75. For incorporation papers contact the Florida Department of State, Division of Corporations, Post Office Box 6327, Tallahassee, FL 32314, (904) 487-6052 or visit their website at www.ccfcorp.dos.state.fl.us

What will tax-exempt status do for my organization?

Tax-exempt status is often confused with incorporation. A group must usually be incorporated at the state level before it can apply for tax exemption from the federal government, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) www.irs.gov. When organizing your association you may want to consider filing for tax-exempt status. This status allows contributors to deduct from their income taxes, any financial contributions donated to your organization. Section 501c(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 exempts a non-profit organization from paying federal, state, and local taxes if the activities of the organization are carried out for "charitable purposes." The IRS defines charitable purposes as:

✓ Relieving poverty.
✓ Advancing religion, education or science.
✓ Lessening the burdens of government.
✓ Reducing neighborhood tensions.
✓ Eliminating prejudice and discrimination.
✓ Defending human and civil rights.
✓ Combating community deterioration and juvenile delinquency.
INCORPORATION AND TAX EXEMPT STATUS

What are the advantages and disadvantages of tax-exempt status?

Advantages of Tax-Exempt Status

✓ Exemption from federal, state, and local corporate income taxes, federal excise and employment taxes, and state and local usage, property and other taxes.
✓ Ability to accept tax-deductible charitable contributions from individuals, corporate donors, private foundations and governmental agencies.
✓ Lower bulk mail postage rates for second and third class mailings.
✓ Exemption from the Organized Crime Control Act, which prohibits illegal gambling; i.e., bingo, lotteries, raffles, or other games of chance.
✓ Exemption from taxation under the Federal Insurance Contribution Act (Social Security) and Federal Unemployment Tax Act, when professionals, such as attorneys or accountants, perform services for the organization.

Disadvantages of Tax-Exempt Status

✓ Application is time consuming and complicated.
✓ Extensive annual reporting requirements.
✓ Observance of numerous limitations to maintain the tax-exempt status.
✓ Close scrutiny by the IRS and the general public.
How do I plan for an effective meeting?

The success of any event is directly related to the planning and detail that was involved. As such, planning for your neighborhood organization’s meetings is just as important as hosting them. Here are some meetings planning tips to keep in mind:

✓ Meeting Location - Find a meeting place that can accommodate the meeting. If you are expecting a small group, you may want to have your first meeting in someone’s home. For a group of larger than ten people, check the availability of your local community center, church or school. Schools and some County owned community centers might waive fees for neighborhood organization meetings.

✓ Speakers’ - You may want to invite someone to speak to issues, concerns, and interests expressed by your neighbors. You may invite speakers from various County Divisions such as Planning, Roads and Drainage, Traffic Engineering, Code Enforcement or the Sheriff’s Office. If you have a concern that you want addressed, call the Neighborhood Services Section at 407-836-5606 for potential speaker ideas.

✓ Meeting Announcement - Good promotion and advance notification of the meeting are important. Give neighbors at least two weeks notice of the dates and times of meetings.

✓ Sign-in - Provide a sign-in sheet for neighbors and guests. This allows you to keep track of attendance and to develop a mailing list for future notifications.

✓ Name Tags - Provide name tags to identify the officers/directors and neighbors. Often neighbors may recognize faces, but may not know names. The nametags help to promote friendliness.

✓ Agenda - Provide an agenda to keep the meeting flowing and in order. Keep it simple and follow the agenda at all times.
What are some tips to running an effective meeting?

The ability to host effective meetings can often times be the pass-fail mark for neighborhood organizations. The success of your organization is a result of the energy, productivity and efficiency of your monthly membership meetings, executive board meetings and even annual election meetings. Following are some tried and true tips for hosting an effective meeting:

- Always start meetings on time.
- Open the meeting location at least 15 minutes early for residents to arrive, socialize, and prepare.
- Begin meetings with an icebreaker to lighten the mood.
- Introduce public officials at the beginning of each meeting.
- Recognize newcomers and ask them to state what street they live on.
- State the purpose of the meeting and proposed discussion items.
- Be brief and keep comments relevant to each discussion. Monitor the pacing so the meeting is not too long (consider using Roberts Rules of Order).
- Use visual aids. Residents will relate to something they can see.
- Allow everyone to contribute. After a concern or project is presented, open the discussion. However, set a time limit.
- Prepare any needed research ahead of time.
- Make frequent summaries during the discussion so that everyone clearly understands what is being stated.
- Promote cooperation not conflict. If conflict occurs, appoint a committee to research the concern and report findings at next meeting. Encourage those individuals who are voicing their concerns to be on the committee.
- Assign tasks and delegate responsibility as the meeting proceeds. This give neighbors a feeling of belonging instead of just listening.
- Guide the meeting from concerns to solutions. Always ask your neighbors how they would solve or approach a concern. Keep in mind that some solutions may take time.
- Towards the end of the meeting, go over the agenda, giving an overview of each concern discussed or raised.
- Before adjourning, state the next meeting date, time and place, and thank everyone for attending.
EFFECTIVE MEETINGS

How do I take effective meeting minutes?

What are minutes? Effective meeting minutes provide a history of the organization's progress as well as informing absent members of meeting discussions and outcomes.

Why keep minutes?
- To record decisions.
- To document who participated in decisions.
- To know how many people agreed and disagreed.
- To understand some of the reasons leading to the decisions.
- To register minority opinions.
- To document citizen participation in government.

Helpful tips for the Minutes taker.
- Obtain previous meeting agendas, minutes and discussion items.
- Focus on recording actions taken by the group.
- Maintain a consistent format with all minutes.

What should minutes contain?
- Organization's name and type of meeting.
- Date, time, and location of meeting.
- Name of members present.
- Name of presiding Officer and Secretary.
- Quorum details.
- Approval of previous minutes.
- Officer and Committee reports. Attach if written, briefly describe if verbal.
- Business of the meeting in order of agenda.
- Brief description of matter and outcome.
- Types of motions and resolutions and names of people who made them.
- Record of motion and resolution outcomes.
- Record of vote process and outcome.
- Adjournment time.
- Secretary's signature.
How do I organize a successful neighborhood event?

Whether you are holding a summer block party, a holiday social or any other community event, it is crucial the event is well organized. Here are some steps for organizing a successful event:

✔ Explore the possibilities. What will work in your neighborhood?

✔ What kinds of activities will your neighbors support?

✔ Select the appropriate event for your neighborhood.

✔ Appoint an event Chairperson.

✔ Set up an event Committee.

✔ Define the Committee’s tasks and event budget.

✔ Get the word out via word of mouth, media, flyers, signs, or mailings.

✔ Develop an event timetable.

✔ Recruit as many event volunteers as possible. Find out people’s interests and match tasks.

✔ Conduct a pre-event inspection to ensure everything is as planned.

✔ Observe the event and troubleshoot as needed along the way.

✔ Clean up and give thanks to all participants.

✔ Evaluate the event to note successes and improvements and learn from the experience.
How do I plan a neighborhood block party?

There is no better way of getting together and meeting your neighbors than having a block party. Neighborhoods are better and safer places to live when there is a sense of caring and friendliness in the area. Block parties can vary from a simple gathering of a few folks in a front yard, to a highly organized event involving dozens of streets in the neighborhood. Start with a neighborhood block party Committee. Assign responsibilities for the party’s components. Meet as often as needed before the party to assign responsibility for the event and to build your volunteer support. Publicize, Publicize, and Publicize! If you are thinking of having a block party, contact the Orange County Building Division at (407) 836-2922 for the appropriate permit.

What is the best way to work with volunteers?

Neighbors and volunteers remain active in their organization when they feel they are contributing positively to the community and when they are recognized for the effort they make within the organization. People join community groups to meet people, to have fun, to learn new skills, to pursue an interest, and to link their lives to some higher purpose. They leave if they don’t find what they are looking for. Citizens groups need to ask themselves more often: What benefits do we provide? At what cost to members? How can we increase the benefits and decrease the costs? Here are some items to keep in mind when working with volunteers:

Most people volunteer if:

✓ They have information about the organization and its purpose.
✓ They identify with the objectives of the organization.
✓ They know what is expected of them in time and effort.
✓ They know that their interests and abilities will be effectively utilized.
NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS AND VOLUNTEERS

How can I prevent volunteer burnout?

Volunteer burnout can be devastating to the productivity of a neighborhood organization. In order to keep your volunteers energetic, creative and enthusiastic, keep the following volunteer burnout tips in mind:

✓ Develop coherent operating plans.
✓ Set realistic objectives.
✓ Prepare job descriptions or task outlines so people know what is expected of them.
✓ Recognize different abilities and tolerance levels in handing out work assignments. Do not let one person take on everything.
✓ Remind people that the quality of their work is important, not the quantity.
✓ Organize fun events. This will create a social network of friends and neighbors and give people an opportunity to have a good time.

What are some innovative ways to reward volunteers?

✓ Certificates of appreciation.
✓ Informal celebrations or gift presentations at meetings.
✓ Thank-you notes. Send a copy to the individual’s employer or family to let them know about that person’s achievements.
✓ Take pictures of events/achievements. Framed copies of pictures make terrific awards.
✓ Recognize individual special needs. If someone in your group is ill, a get-well card affirms the volunteer is valuable and missed.
✓ Use media sources to announce achievements. Invite media photographers to recognition events.
✓ Consider gift certificates or a scholarship to a conference or workshop.
✓ Prepare personal profiles or articles in your newsletter or other media sources.
✓ Plan a formal recognition party for members and families to celebrate the group’s success and acknowledge individual volunteers.
✓ Do not forget the value of very simple thank you gestures.
Where can I obtain more information on volunteer participation?

The following Orange County organization are valuable sources of information and experience to neighborhood organization’s throughout Orange County to assist with and promote volunteerism throughout Central Florida:

Hands on Orlando (HOO)
Hands On Orlando (HOO) is a non-profit agency that promotes citizen engagement through volunteerism. They coordinate, plan, and manage meaningful, flexible, creative, and fun projects and work with individuals, groups, corporate teams, and convention visitors who want to take part in direct, hands-on service. Most projects last less than a day while others are ongoing. Contact Hands on Orlando at 199 E. Welborne Avenue, Winter Park, Fl 32789, (407) 740-8652, or www.handsonorlando.com
What are some helpful hints for a Neighborhood Newsletter?

Newsletters can be simple or complex. No matter what format you choose, newsletters help keep everyone informed of concerns, meetings, activities, and other important issues. Here are a few things to think through before you publish:

✓ Production cost can be a significant factor in what type of newsletter you produce. Check with a local print shop for ideas for less costly newsletters. You may want to contact local businesses to help sponsor the newsletter or charge a fee for advertising in the newsletter.

✓ Usually, a team effort works best when producing newsletters. However, someone should coordinate the efforts of the group and edit the newsletter. Your organization should appoint a committee and chairperson to be responsible for producing the newsletter.

✓ By enlisting the participation of as many members as possible, you can appoint members of different committees to write articles and assign reporters to collect information from authors or research topics for the different newsletter articles.

✓ Like many other community groups, neighborhood organizations find newsletters to be great tools to communicate with neighbors about current activities of the organization.

✓ Identify someone who has a personal computer. You may save money by producing the layout yourselves.

✓ Select committee members who are skilled in writing and editing.

✓ Have clear deadlines for submitting all articles, editing, printing, and distributing each issue of the newsletter.
What is the ideal length for a Neighborhood Newsletter?

The length of your neighborhood newsletter depends on both your budget and the topics your group considers important. A good newsletter can be as short as one page. After settling on a length, structure your newsletter by organizing it into regular features or columns. Some regular newsletter items may include:

- Committee Reports.
- Organization meeting places and times.
- Personal announcements.
- Letter from the President.
- Neighborhood News.
- Job listings.
- Upcoming events.
- Editorials.
- Children's Column.
- Updates on local issues.
- Volunteer Acknowledgements.
- Holiday Activities.
- Neighborhood Watch Report.

Cutting costs on Newsletter Production

Explore having your newsletter printed free or at a reduced cost. Possible sources of free copying are churches, schools, community boards and workplaces of group members. A local printer might donate the job or offer a special rate in exchange for a credit line in the newsletter that urges members to use his or her company. Another possibility is the local merchants association; try offering free ad space. You may also want to sell ads in the newsletter itself to defray your costs. Here are some possible revenue sources:

- Talk to local merchants; they are often happy to reach out to members of the community through community newsletters.
- Stress the interdependence of commercial and residential areas in a neighborhood -- how the health of one depends on the health of the other.
- You may want to offer special rates for larger ads -- i.e., $10.00 for a quarter-page ad, $17.50 for half a page.
- Encourage readers to patronize your advertisers and to tell merchants they saw their ad in your newsletter.
Successful Newsletter Distribution

Before you reproduce your newsletter, make a list of all the people who need to get it. This could include all members of your group, other members of the community, elected officials, local institutions (such as county/city agencies, schools, community board members, local development organizations), and local press. This will tell you how many copies to print. Once printed, newsletters can be distributed door-to-door or mailed. Here are some successful distribution tips:

✓ Be consistent. If your newsletter comes at the same time each month, people will begin to expect and anticipate it. Some groups issue newsletters quarterly.

✓ Call a meeting of building and/or block captains. Ask them to distribute the newsletters and to make sure everyone gets a copy.

✓ Rather than leave newsletters in lobbies of large apartment building, try to get residents to slip a copy under each door.

✓ Some community groups hire neighborhood youth to distribute the papers on the block.

✓ Ask local merchants if you can leave newsletters on the counter for people to pick up. This is a good way of reaching out to potential new members.

✓ If you mail your newsletter, be sure to figure postage expenses into your budget.

✓ If your mailing list is large and speedy delivery is not a concern, you may want to save money by sorting your labels into strict zip code order and mailing bulk rate; call the Post Office for full details.
NEIGHBORLY COMMUNICATION

What are some tips for preparing Flyers, Posters and Meeting Notices?

Below are some guidelines to maximize your promotional and communication efforts via flyers, meeting notices, and correspondence for your neighborhood:

✓ When producing your printed information flyers and materials, be sure to answer the basics - Who, What, When and How in all printed materials.
✓ Choose your words carefully - less is better when designing flyers and notices. Be sure your printed materials are easy to read and draw the reader’s attention.
✓ Talk with other neighborhood organizations for examples.
✓ Mandatory associations have a legal responsibility to keep residents informed and must produce notices in a timely fashion. Check your articles of incorporation and bylaws for more information

Why survey your Neighborhood?

There are infinite reasons to conduct survey research in your neighborhood. You may need to know what issues are impacting your neighbors the most. Is it traffic, noise, or lack of recreational facilities? Survey research is one method for documenting what the concerns and needs of the neighborhood are. It is also used as a method of public outreach and involvement. Survey research is a major part of neighborhood planning since it is a grassroots form of obtaining public participation and input.

How many kinds of surveys are there?

There are three different types of survey questionnaires:
✓ The mail survey also known as the self-administered questionnaire.
✓ The interview survey that requires face to face reading and recording of answers,
✓ The telephone survey that is administered via telephone.
WORKING WITH LOCAL GOVERNMENT

How can our group work effectively with local government?

A successful neighborhood organization is one, which understands the “ins and outs” of local government. Effective partnerships between neighborhood organizations and local government are essential both to the success of the organization and the responsiveness of local government to the needs if its communities. Following are some tips for working with local government:

✓ Set your goals. What is most important for your neighborhood organization to accomplish in order to maintain livability?
✓ Know your issues and do your homework. Find out who is affected and whom the appropriate people are that can help.
✓ Become familiar with the structure and purpose of your local government.
✓ Become acquainted with procedure. Attend meetings of your public officials; understand how they operate and the pressures they are under.
✓ Allow your officials to get to know you. The best form of contact is through meetings, phone calls, letters or emails.
✓ Keep you public officials informed and do not surprise them with unexpected actions. Give your officials written copies of your concerns and follow up with letters.
✓ Work on all levels. First, contact the person most directly responsible for your concern. Then work on all levels by going to your appointed and elected officials.
✓ Make it clear that you represent a group. Identify the name of your group and its purpose and ensure that you have the group’s authorization before acting.
✓ Get solid answers. Don’t be satisfied with vague responses. Talk to informed people and solicit answers you can rely on.
✓ Be open to suggestions. Take them seriously and follow up. Progress occurs when everyone pushes in the same direction.
✓ Follow up a discussion with a memo summarizing the items discussed and outcome. Check periodically on the status of the action to see if decisions are being made.
✓ Do not work in a vacuum. Keep the neighborhood informed about proceedings with local officials.
How can I present successfully to a government board?

Giving public testimony before the Board of County Commissioners or any County Board can be frightening if you have never done it before. There are several things you can do to make your thoughts and presentation clear and successful:

How to give public testimony:

- Be familiar with the Board’s process. Attend meetings before you testify to get familiar with the room layout and meeting procedures.
- Know your issues. Support opinions with as many facts as possible. Be knowledgeable of the opposition’s arguments and be prepared to counter.
- Know your audience. Try to stress what you have in common and respect the differences of Board members.
- Wear appropriate clothing. Men should wear a business suit with tie. Good grooming is also important for men and women making presentations.
- Be aware of how you present yourself. Be conscious of your body language and how you may be perceived.
- Check your feelings at the door before you speak. Don’t overshadow your presentation with strong feelings.
- Don’t ask questions at the public hearing. Schedule an appointment with staff well in advance of the hearing to get your questions answered.
- Be courteous when making your presentation. For example, avoid complaining about having to take time off from work to attend the hearing.
- Maintain eye contact. Use notes rather than a written manuscript so you can develop good eye contact.
- Define what you want. Make it perfectly clear what action you want the group to take.
- Summarize important points.
- Provide copies of your written remarks for each member of the board, appropriate staff, and the media.
NEIGHBORHOOD BEAUTIFICATION

What is Orange County C.A.N.?

Orange County C.A.N. is a Clean and Attractive Neighborhood. This initiative provides citizens and neighborhood organizations with detailed information on County programs that help to beautify and revitalize our community. The purpose of this initiative is to comprehensively package and market these programs that preserve and restore neighborhoods, such as the ReNEW grants, Adopt a Roadway, Streetscape and the Community Clean Up Program. Orange County CAN have clean and attractive neighborhoods!

Municipal Service Taxing Unit/Benefit Unit?

The letter's MSTU/BU stand for Municipal Service Taxing Unit/Benefit Unit. The main function of a MSTU/BU is to collect funds from benefited property owners for the provision of municipal services such as streetlighting, retention pond maintenance, road paving, speed humps and other essential facilities. Types of services not provided with a MSTU/BU include, streetlighting on major roads or private roads, recreational facilities, wall and fence maintenance, security gates, boat control or maintenance of common areas where access is not available to all residents and property owners. Orange County can establish MSTU/BU's for any unincorporated area. MSTU/BU's are adopted by resolutions that are subject to a public hearing and approval by the Board of County Commissioners.

How can our Community organize a Clean-up?

If you would like to see trash and debris removed from your neighborhood, the Orange County Code Enforcement Division Community Clean-up Program may be just what you are looking for. This has been a successful tool to enhance neighborhoods and create neighborhood pride throughout the County. Following a community clean-up request, a Code Enforcement representative will conduct an inspection of the area to determine if a clean-up is feasible. If approved, a date is selected and the clean-up is coordinated. The results will make for a cleaner community and the partnerships created between citizens and local government will be priceless! Call the Code Enforcement Division at (407) 836-5506 for more information.
How can I obtain street trees for my neighborhood?

“Streetscape,” the Orange County Community Beautification Program, provides trees to plant within the right-of-way and other common areas in unincorporated Orange County. The streetscape program provides an education focus enabling community volunteers to use their “sweat equity” to plan, install and maintain their own community trees. For more information, call the Orange County Cooperative Extension at (407) 836-7570.

How do I get trash and junk removed from my neighbor’s property?

Trash, junk, and debris cannot be left in the yard and must be disposed of properly. This includes junk such as auto parts, appliances, furniture, building materials, and tires. Call the Code Enforcement Division and supply the address you wish to have inspected to the customer service representative. This information is placed into the complaint tracking system and a Code Enforcement Officer will visit the site. If a violation is observed, a notice of violation will be issued and remedial action to correct the situation will be taken.

What do I do if I receive a “notice of code violation”?

Find out how to correct the problem and do so promptly. Prompt action to correct the violation will avoid fines and liens. Call the Code Enforcement Division immediately. You may elect to speak with a Code Enforcement Officer by telephone to inquire what remedial actions are necessary.

What are some tips for successful fundraising?

You do not need to raise funds to begin organizing your neighborhood. However, you will need money to organize large numbers of people, or to launch a large action program. If you decide to fundraise, be careful. You can lose money, and divert time and resources away from your objectives. If you decide to raise money, here are some suggestions:

✓ Individual contributions - Asking for contributions from local people turns fundraising into community building. People become more attached to groups, projects, and places they feel they own. Money can come from memberships, voluntary subscriptions to newsletters, collections at meetings, door-to-door canvassing, planned giving, memorial giving, and direct mail. Some groups make donations tax deductible by registering as a charity with the federal government.
NEIGHBORHOOD GRANTS & FUNDRAISING

✔ In-kind donations - Seek in-kind or non-monetary contributions. Examples include donations of printing, equipment, furniture, space, services, food, and time. Local businesses respond well to requests for in-kind donations.

✔ Auctions - Consider an auction. Neighbors can donate babysitting on a Friday night, chocolate cake for eight, or three hours of house repairs. At a community party, your auctioneer sells every treasure to the highest bidder.

✔ Grants from governments & foundations - With so many potential sources of assistance, half the challenge is figuring out who supports what. After identifying a possible grant, find out about application procedures. Receiving a grant usually requires writing a good proposal. Look for matching grants. In many cases governments will contribute a dollar for every dollar raised by citizens.

✔ Bake sales - Bake sales can be a very effective method for raising funds for your community. Food provides a good crowd-gathering event. Bake sales can also present an opportunity for displaying culinary aptitudes for children and adults alike. Children can help with the baking and selling of the goods.

✔ Garage/Yard sales - Consider an annual weekend community-wide garage or yard sale. The proceeds from your community-wide sale go to your organization’s treasury. A $3 fee is required per household and paid to the Zoning Division (407-836-5525). Orange County Code allows two consecutive days for garage sales every six months.

✔ Community Cookbook - Everyone needs a cookbook! Gather together many different recipes from neighbors and add stories about what the recipe means to the cook, where the recipe came from, and so forth. The cookbook doesn’t need to be fancy, just print it up on the computer and have it bound at a local copy shop. The first couple of pages can be dedicated to talking about your organization.

✔ T-shirt Sales - Many neighborhood organizations have their own t-shirts. T-shirt sales can be quite profitable as well as a great way to promote your group. They can be sold through a variety of ways: at every fundraising event that you hold or maybe you have friends/family who work in offices that can distribute the t-shirts.
Who do I call to replace a burned out streetlight?

To report a burned out or defective streetlight, call your local Utility Company. Within Orange County there are several Utility Companies, including Orlando Utilities Commission (407) 437-4222 and Florida Power (407) 895-8711. Before calling, make sure you have the pole number or the street address closest to the streetlight.

How do I request streetlights in my neighborhood?

Streetlights are provided within Orange County through the MSTU process. A written request to establish or amend a MSTU for streetlighting is required from a property owner. The request should reference the property owner’s name, address, and parcel id number, if available. The letter should be sent to the Orange County Comptroller, Special Assessments, Post Office Box 38, Orlando FL 32802-0038. After costs estimates are determined, the property owner is sent a ballot to vote on the streetlight MSTU. At least 66 2/3% of property owners must agree to the MSTU. Contact the Orange County Comptroller’s Office at (407) 836-5690.

What can be done when plants or trees are hanging in the street?

To report locations where road visibility is obstructed due to plants or trees, contact the Public Works Roads and Drainage Division at (407) 836-7870 with a complete address. Blind corners, mid-block obstructions and weeds on the right-of-way should also be reported to Roads and Drainage.

Are there parking restrictions on residential streets?

Parking is permitted on residential streets if it is on Orange County’s right-of-way and there is a sign stating that on-street parking is permitted. If you suspect a violation, contact the Orange County Sheriff’s Office at (407) 737-2400.

How can I get speed humps on my street?

Speed humps are an important mechanism for neighborhood traffic calming. In order to get speed humps on your street or within your subdivision, you must establish a MSTU. To request speed humps, send a written request including your name, address and parcel id number, if available to Orange County Public Works, Traffic Engineering, 4200 South John Young Parkway, Orlando FL 32839-9205. After the necessary traffic studies have been completed and speed hump criteria are met, property owners will receive a ballot to vote on the request. A 66 2/3% majority of property owners is needed to establish an MSTU.

COMMUNITY RESOURCE ORGANIZATIONS

The Central Florida region is fortunate to be home to many enthusiastic and successful community based organizations established to improve the quality of life of residents and visitors to the area. In addition to an extensive network of social and civic organizations dedicated to building community and breaking down barriers, there are also many organizations committed to disseminating information and educating the public on many aspects of organizing effectively. Listed below are a handful of such organizations:

A+ Link Program .......................................................... 407-423-8747
www.golynx.com

A+Link is a special door-to-door van service managed by LYNX for those unable to access regular bus service. For many people, A+Link is the only way they have to get to work, to the doctor, or to meet other needs.

Community Associations Institute (CAI) ......................... 407-805-0106
www.caionline.org

CAI offers valuable information on running homeowner and condo associations. Their website provides you with the ability to search through back issues of their publications by topic. CAI also offers for sale many good books and pamphlets on managing homeowners associations.

Community Care for the Elderly ..................................... 407-628-2884

Healthy Community Initiative (HCI) ............................... 407-649-6891
www.hciflorida.org

Healthy Community Initiative of Greater Orlando (HCI) is a grassroots collection of individuals, businesses, and organizations representing a diverse array of interests and concerns. However, they share one value - a commitment to ensuring that the Greater Orlando Area becomes a healthy community. HCI conducts research focusing on three key areas: promoting collaborative efforts and connectedness in the community, strengthening support for families and children, and accepting, appreciating and building upon diversity.
COMMUNITY RESOURCE ORGANIZATIONS

National Conference for Community and Justice (NCCJ) ............................................... 407-481-8020
www.nccj.org
The National Conference for Community and Justice, founded in 1927 as The National Conference of Christians and Jews, is a human relations organization dedicated to fighting bias, bigotry, and racism in America. NCCJ promotes understanding and respect among all races, religions, and cultures through advocacy, conflict resolution and education.

Neighborhoods USA ................................................................................................. 937-333-3644
www.nusa.org
Neighborhoods USA is a national non-profit organization committed to building and strengthening neighborhood organizations. Created in 1975 to share information and experiences toward building stronger communities, NUSA continues to encourage networking and information sharing to facilitate the development of partnerships between neighborhood organizations, government, and the private sector.

www.ochafl.org
The Orange County Homeowners Association is a not-for-profit corporation organized in 1973 to inform and represent Orange County’s residential homeowners and their community associations. It is an umbrella organization established to further the aims, quality of life, and property values of the Orange County homeowners and to facilitate the effective management of homeowners associations in every sector of the County. OCHA provides continuing programs and printed information to enhance the knowledge and abilities of the officers and directors of its member associations and to protect the interests of homeowners and homeowners associations, property owners associations, and community associations.
COMMUNITY RESOURCE ORGANIZATIONS

Orange County Internet News Service (formerly SWOCHA) ................................................................. 407-351-8626
www.ocins.com
This website is dedicated to the collection and dissemination of local and regional information that impacts Orange County communities and residents. The site is operated as a community service by OCINS.COM. If your community or association desires to be represented on this website, you may do so without charge. You may contact OCINS.COM by e-mail at djpbp@bellsouth.net.

Seniors First ................................................................................................................................. 407-292-0177
www.seniorsfirstinc.org
Seniors First, Inc. enhances the quality of life for Orange County's senior citizens by maintaining their independence and dignity through nutrition, home improvement and support services, which assist seniors in need. Any Orange County residents' age 60 or older may be eligible for Seniors First services. Eligibility requirements vary by program and some programs require a professional in-home assessment.
This past year Neighborhood Services started a Neighborhood Organization Mentor Network. The neighborhood mentor network is designed to pair neighborhood organizations with experts in various areas of neighborhood organization development or concerns.

Here is how the Neighborhood Organization Mentor Network is structured: Neighborhood Organization A contacts Neighborhood Organization B who has identified a volunteer willing to provide assistance with a particular area of expertise. Examples of assistance may include tips on resolving conflicts, ideas and expertise in newsletter production, neighborhood organization website development, tips on running effective meetings, recruiting volunteers, and much more. A Neighborhood organization mentor agrees to assist another neighborhood organization upon request. In most instances, neighborhood volunteers will contact the mentor directly. Together they decide the time, date, and place to meet, or medium used; i.e., e-mail, telephone, etc., to provide assistance. Neighborhood Services staff may call on mentors from time to time to speak at workshops or share information.

In order to facilitate the neighborhood mentor’s effort, a number of neighborhood organizations have identified mentors. These are listed in the following pages. We hope that this information will be the beginning of the formation of lasting partnerships between yours and other organizations.

We welcome your comments and suggestions concerning the organization mentor network, and we hope you find it useful.
